EZ Screen Fans @LizaPrav

Grace and Frankie S 2 Ep 5

Read the conversations out loud . Put in the verbs in brackets in the correct form.

What (be) she like?

- I was so nervous to call her, my hands were shaking when I dialed. Oh, it's (be) so long. She couldn't have (be) lovelier.

- They think I'm losing my memory. Maybe they're right. I've (take) that test about a million times. Why can't I pass it?

- So listen. This is big. We've been talking about this ever since we saw you.
- Jerry Weisczak left Gloria.
- Oh, no. What happened?
- Oh, it depends on who you ask. I mean, he wasn't happy, she's never (be) happy. Hard to tell if it was the depression or the pills.
- I got (depress) so I could take pills.
- Oh, she must be devastated. Is she OK?

Complete the table

the infinitive	past simple	past participle
		been took
to depress
	sucked
		missed

What (do) it look like?

- Great. Do you know this sign means?
- I am not being (suck) into… whatever this is.
- I'm studying for my driver's test.
- Really?
- It looks more like a Jamaican séance.
- Good band name: Jamaican Séance.

- And everyone should look as good as you coming off the year you've (have).
- Really, how do you do it?
- Have you guys (look at) her plate?
- I get a lot of help from my two Italian nutritionists... Martini and Rossi. Oh, I've (miss) you guys.
- We've (miss) you.
- Hasn't (be) the same.
- So much.
- Who's up for more wine?
- Who isn't?

- Were you always this nasty?
- I shoot from the hip, you know that about me.
- You were worse than I was.
- Well, things have (change).
- You've (change).
- Thank you. That's the nicest thing you've (say) all day.
- All right, this has (get) way out of hand.

Complete the rule

We use past participle with the following verbs:

Read the conversations out loud:

- Look, can I just say how sorry I am that I haven't been more in touch? I feel terrible about it.
- Oh, water under the bridge.
- Oh, don't give it a second thought.
- We could've done better, too.

- You think they didn't hear all your sideline potshots?
- I don't know that they heard all of them.
- They couldn't have been nicer to you.

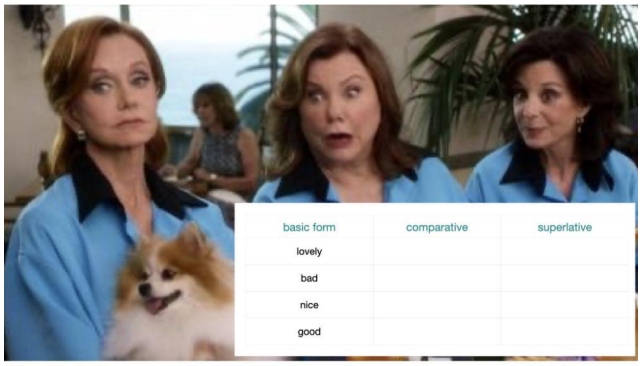

Change the marked sentences from the Present to the Past

- We're bringing it up because we love you. And it could be a good thing, Mom. You don't even like driving. And there's Uber now, and everyone delivers. Maybe, maybe we could hire a nice college student who's interested in performance art to drive you around.

We could a nice college student

- I know she's a little unusual... but we've both been put through the same wringer.
- That's what I told Bob. "They're living together because who else could understand that situation?"

Who else could that situation?"

basic form	comparative	superlative lovely bad
nice
good

Match the words with the definitions.

to dial

ever since

to be up for nasty

to shoot from the hip

a potshot

water under the bridge

don't give it a second thought

a band

to get out of hand

Speaking or acting quickly without careful thought or consideration; reacting spontaneously.

A group of musicians who play instruments and perform music together.

Willing or ready to do something; expressing a positive and open attitude towards a suggestion or proposal.

From a specific point in the past until the present time, indicating the continuous duration of an action or situation.

Past events or issues that are no longer important or relevant; something that has been resolved and is not worth worrying about (idiom)

Making a phone call by entering a phone number on a telephone or a mobile device.

Unpleasant, mean, or offensive in behavior or appearance; causing discomfort or disgust.

Becoming uncontrollable or disorderly; escalating beyond manageable limits.

Don't worry about it; there's no need to spend additional time or concern on a particular matter (idiom)

A critical or sarcastic remark, often made hastily or without much thought; a disparaging comment.

LIVEWORKSHEETS