Where can you go skiing in July, swim in the ocean on Christmas Day, see penguins and llamas, and eat German cakes? In Chile, of course. This long, skinny country is a very special place with many interesting places to visit.

One fantastic place is the Grey Glacier on Lake Grey in the south of Chile. Glaciers are large, frozen rivers that are usually covered in snow. They are very beautiful. Lake Grey also has icebergs! You can visit the Grey Glacier by boat and you can also go ice walking!

It's a Fact!

Almost 90% of an iceberg is under water!

2 Find and write.

- 1 Can you name two different kinds of animals from Chile?
- 2 Where is the Grey Glacier?
- 3 What are glaciers made of?
- 4 What two activities can you do at the glacier?
