READING COMPREHENSION TEST
2nd TRIMESTER

Read about what Ella has done this summer and tick (✓) or cross (✗) in the box.

Hi, I'm Ella. I'm having a fantastic summer! I've listened to a lot of music. I've been to a pop concert for the first time. It was at the festival in June. It was great. And I've played in the school orchestra too. I played violin at the concert in July. I haven't been to the dance show but I've bought a ticket – it's next week. And I haven't been to the drama workshop – I haven't acted in a play before. But I haven't been bored in the holidays. I've written two poems about animals. And I've learnt something new – I've made a sculpture! I made it last week when it rained. I really enjoyed making it!

The drop bear

Another mythical Australian animal is the drop bear. It's a mammal which looks like a koala or small bear, but it's the size of a small dog. It's got a body covered with dark brown or orange fur. It's got a larger mouth than a koala, with lots of sharp teeth and two pointed fangs to help it attack people. It's also got powerful legs and sharp claws.

The drop bear is said to live in forest areas on the coast of Australia. It's called a drop bear because it lives high up in the trees and drops onto your head when you aren't looking. It attacks animals bigger than itself, including humans!

People believe that drop bears attack more tourists than native Australians, so perhaps this scary animal was invented to keep out strangers.
