

History of Pizza in America.

A pizza is a flat bread covered with tomatoes, cheese, and a variety of _____.

Today, pizza is one of the most popular foods in America, but this _____ the case. Pizza came to America with Italian immigrants during the late 19th century. People sold it on the street like they _____ do in Italy. A few pizzerias opened in New York City in the early 20th century, but these were _____ popular with Italian immigrants.

_____ World War II that pizza became truly popular. American men that had been _____ in Europe, particularly in Italy, had found out about pizza. When they came home, they wanted to continue eating it. This made American pizzerias extremely popular.

Pizza, _____ originally made in Italy, is now one of the most important foods in America. Americans feel lucky _____ eating pizza !