

Job-Hunting Vocabulary Practice

A. Insert the correct preposition.

1. In my previous job, I regularly contributed ___ department meetings.
2. He presented evidence ___ support ___ his hypothesis.
3. Our team is responsible for carrying ___ projects to meet our client's deadlines.
4. I am eager to put my theoretical knowledge ___ a practical context.
5. After several hours of brainstorming, we finally came ___ ___ a solution that met our needs.
6. I'm a great fit ___ this role because I've successfully completed these responsibilities at my previous job.
7. I've found during my career that I actually work better ___ pressure and I thrive when working in a challenging environment.
8. She reports ___ the president of the company.
9. He has a lifelong passion ___ learning.
10. The young student eagerly took ___ the responsibilities of her new role ___ the class president.
11. Having worked as a crisis manager for three years, I learned to effectively cope ___ accelerating changes

B. Fill in the gaps with the verbs in the correct form.

1. He wanted to _____ hands-on experience in marketing and business development.
2. She _____ the initiative and maintained an aggressive game throughout.
3. They are clearly first-class contractors who can _____ a deadline.
4. With her generous donation, Sarah _____ a significant contribution toward the charity's goal.
5. She refuses to _____ for second best – she strives for perfection.