

Relative Pronouns

A – Choose the correct relative pronoun:

1. Where is the DVD who / which / whose I bought last week?
2. The hero who / which / whose saved the family was wearing a mask
3. This is the student who / which / whose wants to become an actor.
4. The brothers who / which / whose films are blockbusters are getting an Oscar at the ceremony.
5. Look at the book who / which / whose is on the table. It's now a film too.

B - Complete with the correct relative pronoun:

1. What's the name of the film you saw yesterday?
2. This is the man does all the dangerous scenes.
3. A blockbuster is a film is very successful.
4. I really don't like actors films are all about guns and explosions.
5. Where is the actress won the cinema award?

C - Join the sentences. Use who, which or whose.

1. I bought a book. It is now a film.
2. This is the review. It is about the new science fiction film.
2. Where is the journalist? He wrote an article about Angelina Jolie.
3. That's the British actress. Her films are always excellent.