

Important women in the world

Find the information on the Internet and do the activities.

Choose the best answer for each gap:

- _____ is a Pakistani female education activist and the 2014 Nobel Peace Prize laureate at the age of 17. She is the world's youngest Nobel Prize laureate, the second Pakistani and the first Pashtun to receive a Nobel Prize.
- _____ was a Polish and naturalised-French physicist and chemist who conducted pioneering research on radioactivity.
- _____ was an artist from Mexico who was best known for her self-portraits. Her paintings have deep roots in Mexican folk culture, and use lots of vivid colors and symbolism well known for its drama.
- _____ created a very important moment in the history of medical science. She discovered the structure of DNA. Her scientific work also helped us to see the tiny structures of other things too, such as coal, graphite, and viruses.

-
- During her 2,408-mile flight to become the first person to fly across the Pacific, _____ enjoyed a cup of hot chocolate. In 1928, she was chosen, along with two other men, to make the first flight across the Atlantic Ocean

- _____ was the first professional female astronomer in the United States. In 1847, by using a telescope, she discovered a comet which as a result became known as the 'Miss Mitchell's Comet.'

- _____ was an Egyptian queen who ruled during the Ptolemaic dynasty, a period of Greek rule in Egypt. She is well known for her beauty, intelligence, and political savvy. She was fluent in several languages and was well-versed in diplomacy and strategy.

- _____ was a French peasant girl who became a military commander during the Hundred Years' War between France and England. She inspired French unity and showed bravery and determination in the face of adversity. As a woman, she challenged traditional gender roles and proved that women could be powerful leaders.

- As First Lady of the United States from 1933 to 1945, _____ defined the role of the First Lady, using her platform to advocate for civil rights, women's rights, and social justice. She was a passionate advocate for marginalized communities, including African Americans, women, and the poor, and she fought tirelessly to improve their lives.

Match the name with the correct pictures.

Mother Teresa

Barbara McClintock

María Montessori

Simone de Beauvoir

Marilyn Monroe

Jane Austen

Valentina Tereshkova

