

Tick the correct options

- 1 Barbers in western and northern Europe only cut hair.
- 2 Monks were the primary individuals performing surgical procedures before barbers.
- 3 The Catholic Church required clergymen to have long hair and beards.
- 4 Barbers often combined knowledge of anatomy with astrology when treating patients.
- 5 Barber-surgeons memorized poems to remember where bloodletting should be performed on the body.
- 6 The Little Ice Age led to regular famines across Europe.
- 7 Gangrene was treated by pouring boiling oil into infected limbs.
- 8 Ambroise Paré was a military surgeon who advocated for pouring boiling oil into gunshot wounds.
- 9 Surgery became more specialized in the 18th century.
- 10 Barbers and surgeons remained in the same occupation throughout history.