VOCABULARY PRACTICE

Nghe lại lần hai và hoàn thành các vị trí trống dưới đây

Optometrist: Good morning, can I help you?

Simon Lee: Yes. I'm here for an 1 at ten o'clock with the 2.
I'm a little early. I know it's only ten to ten.

Optometrist: Are you Simon Lee?

Simon Lee: Yes, I am.

Optometrist: I'm Rachel White, the optometrist here today. Come in and take a seat.

Simon Lee: Thanks.

Optometrist: Before we test your eyes, I just need to get a few 3 from you. So, Simon, what's your full name?

Simon Lee: Simon Anthony – that's A-N-T-H-O-N-Y. And my family name is Lee: L double E.

Optometrist: And your date of birth, Simon?

Simon Lee: The 1st of June, 1989.

Optometrist: The 21st of June.

Simon Lee: No. The first of June.

Optometrist: Whoops... sorry! 1989 – ah, same year my son was born! What's your current address?

Simon Lee: I'm living at a hall of 4.

Optometrist: Which one?

Simon Lee: At 5 Hall, not far from here, in Adams 6.

Optometrist: University Hall... And do you have any medical 7?

Simon Lee: Yes, I'm fully covered

Optometrist: And who are you 8 with?

Simon Lee: I'm with 'Health for life'.

Optometrist: Healthy Life.

Simon Lee: No. People always get that wrong. It's Health for Life. They're part of some big insurance 9 .

Optometrist: Good! Now, Simon. Have you ever had your eyes tested before?

Simon Lee: Yes, once. But not recently. It was when I was still at school.

Optometrist: So 10 when would that have been?

Simon Lee: Probably around September 2007. No, on second thoughts, it must've been the year before – September 2006. And my 11 was fine then.

Optometrist: But you're having a little 12 now, are you?

Simon Lee: Well, yes ... since I started at university, I've been having difficulty with distance vision. I can't always see things in the 13 .

Optometrist: Well, let's have a look. Now I'm just going to 14 your left eye. Can you read the 15 line?

Simon Lee: Yes. R... B... Q... S...
