

TASK 2:

Homeschooling in simple words is educating your kids at home without letting them go to public school. There are many reasons why today's parents are not at all interested in sending their kids to public schools and choose to homeschool. Homeschool today is legal in many parts of the world and there are many parents in then UK, USA, who gives homeschooling priority as compared to the public school.

Write an essay to discuss advantages and disadvantages of homeschooling.

Home schooling refers to the concept of giving the kids a formal education without sending them to schools and teaching them within the comfort of the home. This essay will shed 1. _____ on both advantages and disadvantages of homeschooling.

One the 2. _____ hand, it is obvious that homeschooling offers a 3. _____ of advantages. One of the first benefits of homechooling is one-to-one teaching. In public school setting, teachers should give their attention to 25 to 30 students in class. And even the teacher is well-trained, it will 4. _____ difficult to give an individual attention. However, in homeschooling, parents will always be there for their children and help them immediately, no 5. _____ what time of the day it is. Therefore, they can understand their children's level and choose an appropriate teaching style to increase their productivity. 6. _____ benefit would be that with homeschooling children will focus 7. _____ learning knowledge, not learning for grades. Today, there is more fierce competition if you want to get admission in top university or college. As a 8. _____, getting good grades is their only focus. With homeschooling children, don't have to run towards grades and hence learn things in a better and comprehensible way.

One the 9. _____ hand, it is undeniable that there are some 10. _____ of homeschooling. First and 11. _____, home schooled children are usually less socialized. Although social skills are learned through everyday interactions such as trips to the supermarket, malls, parks and visiting neighbors, it is not enough for them. It means that they do not interact with peers or teachers, which partly prevents them 12. _____ developing their social skills and valuable coping skills for their future. Another matter of concern with homeschooling is that there is the absence of skilled and trained teachers. There are many homeschooling parents 13.

_____ are not skilled and trained in delivering standard education, while in the public schools experienced and trained teachers are hired to give students the quality education.

In 14. _____, the benefits of homeschooling 15. _____ its drawbacks; however, their downsides cannot be overlooked. Parents should think of all available options so that they can make a better decision about providing quality education to their children.

360 words