Present simple and progressive

Read the next story carefully, here we can see the use of present simple and progressive, then with the highlighted words complete the writing section:

The sun shines brightly through Sarah's window every morning, waking her up gently. She stretches in bed for a moment, then throws back the covers and hops out. Her dog, Max, a fluffy golden retriever, waits impatiently by the door, his tail wagging furiously.

Sarah rushes through her morning routine, quickly brushing her teeth and throwing on some clothes. Max barks excitedly as she grabs his leash and a bag of treats. They head out the door together, Sarah breathing in the crisp morning air.

Their walk takes them through the park, where children laugh on the swings and squirrels chase each other through the trees. Sarah sits on a bench while Max sniffs around happily. She pulls out a book and starts reading, enjoying the peaceful morning.

After a while, Sarah's stomach starts to rumble. She decides to grab a coffee and a croissant from the bakery across the street. Max trots happily beside her, his tongue lolling out. At the bakery, Sarah orders her food and Max waits patiently outside.

They walk back to the park, where Sarah finds a shady spot under a tree. Max munches on his treat while Sarah sips her coffee and savors her croissant. They spend the rest of the morning relaxing in the park, enjoying each other's company.

As the sun begins to climb higher in the sky, Sarah knows it's time to head home. They walk back at a leisurely pace, both feeling content and relaxed. Back at home, Sarah collapses onto the couch with a sigh of satisfaction. Max curls up at her feet, and they drift off to sleep together, ready for another day of adventures.

a) The sun _____brightly through Sarah's window every morning, waking her up gently.

b) She _____in bed for a moment, then _____back the covers and _____out.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

c) Her dog, Max, a fluffy golden retriever, _____impatiently by the door, his tail furiously.

d) Sarah _____through her morning routine, quickly _____her teeth and _____on some clothes.

e) Max _____excitedly as she _____his leash and a bag of treats. They _____out the door together, Sarah _____in the crisp morning.

f) Their walk takes them through the park, where children _____on the swings and squirrels _____each other on the trees.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

g) Sarah _____ on a bench while Max _____around happily . She _____out a book and starts _____enjoying the peaceful morning.

h) After a while, Sarah's stomach _____to rumble. She _____ to grab a coffee and a croissant from the bakery across the street.

i) Max _____happily beside her, his tongue lolling out. At the bakery, Sarah _____ her food and Max _____patiently outside.

j) They _____back to the park, where Sarah _____a shady spot under a tree. Max _____ on his treat while Sarah _____her coffee and _____ her croissant.

k) They _____ the rest of the morning relaxing in the park, enjoying each other's company.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

l) Sarah _____it's time to head home. They _____back at a leisurely pace, both feeling content and relaxed.

m) Back at home, Sarah _____onto the couch with a sigh of satisfaction. Max_____ at her feet, and they _____ off to sleep together, ready for another day of adventures.

Now put the correct letter in the image according to the previous sentences…

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

LIVEWORKSHEETS

LIVEWORKSHEETS