Reading Comprehension Text:

In a small town called Greenfield, lived a young woman named Sarah. Sarah was a college student studying to become a teacher. Every day, she walked from her house to the university, which was only ten minutes away. Sarah loved nature and enjoyed spending time outdoors. In her free time, she would often go to the nearby park to read books under the trees or take long walks along the trails.

One day, while Sarah was at the park, she found an abandoned dog. The dog was small and looked scared. Sarah approached slowly and extended her hand to pet it.

The dog curled up next to her and started wagging its tail. Sarah decided to take the dog home and care for it until she could find it a permanent home.
