Prepositional Phrases

A preposition tells how ideas in a sentence are related. They can tell where (i.e., over, up) or when (i.e., during, following) something happens. They can also tell you the location of a person or an object in time or space.
Prepositions usually come at the beginning of a phrase that has several parts:

EXAMPLE: The boy is walking to the school.

The prepositional phrase in the sentence above consists of:

the preposition	an article	a noun (object of the preposition)
to	the	school

Prepositional phrases can include possessive nouns or pronouns instead of the article. They can also include adverbs or adjectives.

DIRECTIONS: Underline the prepositional phrase in each sentence.

1. Carol works at the bank.

2. The dog went into his crate.

3. I like sour cream on my baked potato.

4. The sofa is between two end tables.

5. My friend lives up the street.

6. I like to be among dogs.

7. We ran across the field.
