

Study this song too then write essay in which you cover the following points:

- What the song is about
- The dilemma the singer might be going through
- What you would do if you were the singer and, why?