Fiona is very excited about her trip to Kenya tomorrow. However, she has a lot of preparations to make. She needs to go to the pharmacy to buy some sunscreen because it's very hot there and the sun can be dangerous. She's also going to the clothing store to buy some shorts for the safari. She is planning to stay there for a month, so this evening she's going to visit her friend Angela to say goodbye. They're going to drink some wine and talk about their vacation plans.

There are some health risks in Africa, so yesterday she visited a doctor to get some vaccinations. Tomorrow, she's going to get up early to pack her bags. She also wants to install some special travel apps on her smartphone to make her trip easier. When Fiona travels, she usually takes a taxi to go to the airport. She never goes by bus or train because she isn't normally well-organized. She often does everything at the last minute.
