HASSAN GRILLED FISH

The very popular Hassan Grilled Fish is my all-time favourite restaurant. Every time I eat out there, I end up cleaning the plate but still crave for more. The grilled fish is presented on a small sheet of banana leaf which gives that extra fragrant flavour. A special sauce too is included with the dish to enhance the flavour of the burnt grilled fish. Depending on your preference, you can either smother the sauce over the fish or you can dip it in.

When asked why there has always been a queue since the day it opened in 2016, Encik Hassan says that he only has one simple objective that is to sell good and fresh fish and that he never uses shortcuts to reach a customer's heart. Therefore, there has always been a queue as early as 7.30 a.m. and you can only have it from 8.30 a.m. onwards. You can find this restaurant in Jalan Kelana but there is a shortcut along Jalan Raja Mahmud if you coming from Desa Ria. The restaurant uses pomfret to make the dish. In the market a whole pomfret would usually cost about RM13 to RM15. However, a cooked fish here costs RM 17. It is indeed a good deal.

You do not have to wait long for your order to arrive as the fish is cooked early in the morning. I'm quite disappointed cause they don't do my favourite dish grilled squid, but the restaurant serves deep fried cracker which is another great feature to add on. You can eat the grilled fish on its own or with rice.

The restaurant owner first started selling the grilled fish at a small stall. Although he was a lawyer by profession, he decided to become an entrepreneur and started a grilled fish stall. His mother taught him the recipe in 2008 but he only opened the stall in 2010. He spent two years perfecting the recipe. His grilled fish is one of the best and he is glad that people enjoy eating it.
