

Part 2

Questions 6–10

For each question, choose the correct answer.

The people below all want to improve their cooking skills.

On the opposite page there are eight advertisements for cooking classes.

Decide which class would be the most suitable for the people below.

6

Rashid would like to cook healthy meals for his children, and is looking for a course which teaches basic skills. He and his children enjoy eating dishes from around the world.

7

Angela's a good cook, and wants to make a special dinner for 20 guests at her husband's birthday party. She'd like to make more advanced dishes, and her husband particularly likes traditional food.

8

Marcus would like some ideas for meals for one person, without having to buy fresh ingredients every day. He wants quick and easy dishes he can cook when he gets home from work feeling hungry.

9

Francesca is an experienced cook who wants to get new ideas for meals for her family. She'd like to increase her range of skills in the kitchen and learn how to make tasty desserts.

10

Aston wants to spend time trying complicated recipes at the weekend because he finds it relaxing. He wants to make food in large amounts, so he can take a proper meal to work for lunch every day.

Cooking classes

A Food for you

If you often eat away from home and want some food you can take with you, you'll be interested in our recipes for snacks that are quick and easy to make. We'll show you how to create delicious healthy treats and sweets – great for young and old alike on family picnics.

C Come and cook!

Whether you're cooking for yourself or for others, our simple but delicious meals don't take long to make – perfect for those with busy lives. We'll show you how to make the most of what you've probably already got in your kitchen cupboards. Satisfying meals without too much trouble!

E Delicious dishes

This course is for people who want to take their cookery skills to the next level. We focus on typical recipes – especially for main courses – passed down through generations from all over the country, to help you put together a fantastic meal for any occasion. We promise everyone will be impressed!

G Food lovers

If you lead a busy life and don't particularly like making meals, come and find out how to feed family and friends simple food made from healthy, fresh ingredients. Our 'picnic suppers' involve baking delicious breads and cakes which you can prepare in advance, then serve with salads and other cold dishes.

B Tasty treats

If you're just starting your journey to become a great cook, this course is for you! We'll teach you how to prepare food safely, and show you recipes for simple but tasty dishes from many different countries. People of all ages will enjoy these dishes, which are also very good for you.

D Kerry's kitchen

This course is for less experienced cooks who want to create exciting meals. Perfect for special occasions or when you just fancy doing something different. Learn to create a meal from starter to dessert, and how to present it attractively for your dinner party guests. Our focus is on modern international dishes.

F Eat well

Our main dishes and healthy desserts are challenging to prepare and cook, but they're definitely worth the effort. Once they're done, there's enough for you to divide up into several one-meal portions. Then you can keep them for a few days in the fridge until you need them.

H Hot stuff

You may consider yourself a bit of a chef, but there's always more to learn! Come on our course and we'll not only teach you advanced techniques but give you loads of interesting and unusual recipes – from soups to cakes and ice-cream – that even very young children will love.