The word communication comes from the verb communicate, which means to give or ex-change information, new ideas of opinions by speech or writing. In other words, communication is the sending of information or news between people.

Through communication people learn from one another the thing they want to know. Imagine if human beings could not communicate, he was not talk to other people, and not other people will talk to him or teach him anything. Can he learn anything by himself?

How could a child learn to do anything at all if he did not have the chance to communicate with other people, especially with his parents, brothers, and sisters? He would not learn to talk and would not learn to do any other things either. Some must teach the child.

The main way people Communicate with one another is by speaking. Two people can communicate in this way when they are near to each other. Nowadays, however, we can use electronic instrument like the telephone, radio, and telegraph as a means of communications. If we do not have a telephone or radio, we can stillnncommunicate by writing letters.

Writing began when men used picture to explain their thoughts to others. Now writing has become a very important means of communication. News papers, mmegazine, books and other printed materals use writing.

Since communications is important for gaining knowledge, you must communicate actively with other people, especially with your teacher and friends at school.

Last vacation, I went to Italy with Mom and Dad. We visited four cities : Rome, Bologna, Pisa and Venice. Such beautiful cities they are. Their old buildings are well taken care of even though they are hundreds years old.

We took lots of pictures of those lovely places. But I was so impressed with the water city of Venice. Imagine, it's city where ninety percents of its transportation use boats. Those water taxies are plying along the canals. So in Venice, almost all its streets are water.

My parents and I rode on a boat called gondola. We went around the city through the canals. We saw many beautiful places and buildings, such as Basilica in San Marco, churches, palaces, opera houses, universities, and famous bridges. One of the bridges was called the Bridge of Sihgs. Funny, isn't it? I was so happy to have the chance to see it all.
