

89 Relative clauses and pronouns

Director Peter Jackson filmed the three movies which form the Lord of the Rings series in his home country, New Zealand.

1 Relative clauses

We can use relative clauses to make two sentences into one sentence:

TWO SENTENCES

Sentence 1

*This is my brother.
There are three movies.
I've got a new mobile phone.*

Sentence 2

*He lives in Japan.
They form the 'Lord of the Rings' series.
It takes brilliant photos.*

ONE SENTENCE

Main clause

*This is my brother
There are three movies
I've got a new mobile phone*

Relative clause

*who lives in Japan.
which form the 'Lord of the Rings' series.

The relative clause gives us more information about the person or thing in the main clause.

2 who, which, that

We introduce a relative clause with a relative pronoun (who, which or that).

- who is for a relative clause about people:
Alexander Graham Bell was the man who invented the telephone.
Do you know the woman who works at the cinema?
- which is for a relative clause about animals or things (but not people):
The horse which won the race has died. I've bought a new computer which cost £800.
- we can use that for people, animals and things:
I've contacted all the students that took the exam. It's a phone that plays music.

In a relative clause, who, which, or that REPLACES he, she, it, etc, or a noun:

- X ~~Jose is the man who he lives next door.~~
- ✓ Jose is the man who lives next door.
- X ~~We don't go to restaurants which they serve meat.~~
- ✓ We don't go to restaurants which serve meat.
