Final ExamReading Comprehension

Read the passage. Then read the statements and circle true or false.

I grew up on a farm. A month ago, I moved to Chicago, one of the biggest cities in America. (Only New York and Los Angeles are bigger.) I came here to study at university. I quite like my teachers and my classmates, but I miss my home.

It's livelier here, but it's hardly ever relaxing. And the city is much more expensive than my hometown. The people aren't as friendly here. Also, my family and friends are far away.

I would study in my hometown if I could. But there aren't any universities there. In four years, I'm going to graduate and then move back to the countryside. I'm going to buy a farm and have a big family there. I'm looking forward to having a traditional life!

1. The writer used to live in the countryside.	true	false
2. He now lives in America's largest city.	true	false
3. He thinks people in his new home are friendlier.	true	false
4. He's probably not going to graduate.	true	false
5. He doesn't want to live in a modern city in the future.	true	false
