1 Read the introduction to the article. Underline the four suggested reasons for taking a day off.

Everybody needs a little break sometimes.

Maybe you feel stressed, maybe you have to care for your children, maybe you went out late last night or maybe it's a beautiful sunny day and you just don't want to work. Whatever your reason, here is our step-by-step guide to taking a day off work, but don't tell your boss that you read this article!

2 Read the rest of the article and match the headings to each paragraph. There is one extra heading. Then put them in the correct order, 1-4.

Going back to work

Inform your boss

Party time!

Preparation

Your time off

a

Now you are free to enjoy your time off. But be careful! If your phone rings, be careful how you answer it, it might be your boss. And if you have a lot of fun, NEVER post it on Facebook! In fact, it's a good idea to stay at home.

Remember to look ill when you return to the office. Watch a late-night movie so you go to work looking tired. Put a box of painkillers or cough medicine on your desk so that everyone can see it. REMEMBER! Never take medicine if you don't really need it, or you will really get sick. And your boss will get suspicious if you take more time off!

c

Call your boss early in the morning. Your voice will sound bad and they will be getting ready for work so they won't have time to ask any difficult questions. Keep the conversation short. Don't give too many details, but be ready to answer any questions.

Choose your illness carefully and be sure you know the right symptoms. We recommend a stomachache for a short break and flu or a bad headache if you need more time. Try to choose something contagious so that your boss doesn't want you in the office. A few days before you plan to be "sick," start to show symptoms. A loud cough is easy to do and will get attention. You can also say that you hurt in various places, but you should try not to be too specific.

3 1.10 Based on the article, give advice with should / shouldn't. Follow the model.

Model: Investigate the symptoms.

Model: Give details.

You: You should investigate the symptoms.

You: You shouldn't give details.

4 Complete the advice with should or shouldn't.

- a You _____ take a day off on Mondays or Fridays. Long weekends are suspicious.
- b If you can, you _____ get a letter from a doctor.
- c You _____ take time off when your work is very busy—you will be unpopular with your colleagues.
- d You _____ play dangerous sports. If you break your arm it will be difficult to explain!
- e You _____ go to work when you have a bad cold unless the doctor tells you to.

5 1.11 Read these sentences aloud and listen to check your pronunciation.

- a You shouldn't wear shoes in the house.
- b Put two painkillers in a glass of water.
- c How did you cook this soup?
- d This book is a true story.

6 Categorize the bold words in 5 according to the sound of the underlined letters.

1.5 Will there be TV in 2030?

•I'll steal the sun from the sky for you. Words can't say what love can do. I'll be there for you.•

1 Read World of English and match proverbs a-e to their explanations. Which two are not metaphorical?

World of English

Common expressions can be literal (e.g. "honesty is the best policy") or metaphorical. For example, "at the end of the day" is very common, but it means "ultimately," not "nighttime"!

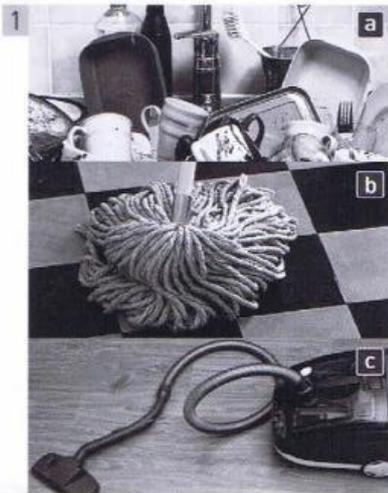

- a Don't look a gift horse in the mouth.
 - b You can kill two birds with one stone.
 - c Don't leave until tomorrow what you can do today.
 - d It's water under the bridge.
 - e If you want something done well, you have to do it yourself.
- Don't procrastinate.
 - Be grateful for a present, even if you don't like it.
 - You shouldn't count on other people to do things properly for you.
 - Complete two tasks with one action.
 - It's in the past and unimportant now.

2 1.12 Listen to comments 1-5 and choose the best response from 1.

3 Complete a-e with a reflexive pronoun if necessary.

- a Can you see _____ in this photo?
- b Please wash your hands _____.
- c There's food in the kitchen, so just help _____.
- d Fredo gets up _____ at 7 a.m. every morning.
- e Then he shaves _____ and gets dressed.

4 1.13 Listen to three dialogs and select how the person can help.

5 Divide these lines into minialogs as in the example in e.

- a It's really cold in here do you want me to turn off the heat thanks for the offer but I can do it.
- b I'm going to wash the dishes would you like me to dry yes please.
- c These bags are really heavy! I'll carry one for you that's very kind of you.
- d I don't understand this problem do you want a hand yes please.
- e I have to go to the airport do you want me to drive that's very kind of you.

I have to go to the airport.

Do you want me to drive?

That's very kind of you.
