

1. Read the text and choose the correct answer to each of the five questions.

Do you skip breakfast? Millions of people do, and if you are one of them, you are putting your ability to think and learn at risk. Skipping breakfast can cause you to be hungry, tired, and crabby by the middle of the morning. Why is that? First, when you wake up, you have not eaten for about eight hours. Your body's fuel, called glucose, is low. Eating breakfast raises the level of glucose in your brain. Your brain requires a constant flow of glucose to do mental work.

So eating breakfast will give you a mental edge at school. What if you don't have enough time for breakfast or if you are not hungry when you wake up? Having something for breakfast is better than nothing. Drink some milk or juice. Then catch a nutritious snack later on in the morning. Yoghurt, dry cereal, cheeses, or fruit are good choices. What if you don't like breakfast foods? Then eat healthy foods you do like. Even cold pizza or a fruit smoothie can power your morning. Any way you look at it, there's no reason to skip this essential meal.

Josh

I started writing my popular music blog because I love music. I like it when readers send me reviews by email about a new band or concert they've seen, and I put these on my blog for everyone to read. I'm still at school, so I'm careful about spending too long on my blog, which is difficult as writing well takes time. I don't think I'll write it for much longer. I'm busy, and it takes time to post regularly.

Isabella

I began writing for my school magazine. I stopped last years because of exams, but I missed it, so I started writing it again. I'm still writing for it now! The blog's new to me, and I write about local events. I get ideas from friends when I can't decide what to write about – we always think of something interesting that happens in our town. At first, almost nobody visited my site, but now more so, I've had some lovely comments.

Emma

Last year, I used to write for my school magazine, which I found really interesting. I don't think it's hard to write a good blog. Mine is about things from daily life that happens at our school. My older sister also has a blog, but we're writing about fashion. We don't discuss what we're planning, but we read each other's blogs sometimes. I like giving advice to students who write in asking for it – it's good to know I've helped.

1. Who writes both a magazine and a blog?
2. Who says that studying and writing a blog at the same time can be hard?
3. Who answers questions from other people who read their blog?
4. Who plans to stop writing their blog soon?
5. Who didn't have many people reading their blog in the beginning?
6. Who asks friends to help them write their blog?
7. Who says writing a blog is easier than some other types of writing?
