

Read the text about film industries. Decide if the statements are TRUE or FALSE.

Film industries around the globe vary greatly in their approaches, styles, and cultural influences. Hollywood, located in the United States, is renowned for its blockbuster films, high production values, and global reach. Bollywood, based in India, produces a vast number of films each year, known for their colorful musical numbers and dramatic storylines. In East Asia, countries like South Korea and Japan have thriving film industries, producing a wide range of genres from intense thrillers to heartwarming dramas. Europe boasts diverse cinematic landscapes, with countries like France, Italy, and the UK known for their art-house cinema and acclaimed directors. Additionally, the Middle East and Latin America have been gaining recognition for their unique storytelling perspectives. Despite differences in language and culture, these film industries contribute to a rich tapestry of global cinema, offering audiences around the world a glimpse into the diverse human experience.

1. Hollywood is primarily known for producing small-budget independent films.

True / False

2. Bollywood films are famous for their elaborate musical numbers and colorful storytelling.

True / False

3. South Korea and Japan have no significant film industries.

True / False

4. European cinema is primarily focused on mainstream Hollywood-style blockbusters.

True / False

5. Latin America and the Middle East have been gaining recognition for their unique storytelling perspectives in cinema.

True / False