"The Latino Russian discovers the magic of Los Chorros¨

Vlogger Artemio, the Latino Russian, finally visited the Los Chorros spa in La Libertad, a tourist center considered one of Salvadorans' favorites. The 'chelito' invites his followers to discover its beauty. Artemio, the Latino Russian who dreamed of being a Spanish-speaking influencer, arrived in El Salvador in May 2023 to discover the attractions of the 'Pulgarcito de America.' Although his purpose is to reside for 2 to 3 months in each country he visits, he has already spent more than 10 months living with Salvadorans and continues to be amazed by every magical corner he visits. This Holy Week, the Russian let himself be enchanted by one of the most visited spas by Salvadorans during rest times. We refer to Los Chorros, located within the limits of the La Libertad department, which since 1957 has become one of the most popular recreational destinations.

According to the site elsalvadortravel.com, the place offers visitors '12 hectares of land, four natural water pools, a 5-meter slide, water games for children, and a natural environment....' "I went to Los Chorros in El Salvador sv...," Artemio posted at the bottom of the video he shared of his visit to Los Chorros, in which he offers useful information for those thinking of refreshing themselves in the natural water pools during these days of scorching heat. In the clip, the vlogger emphasizes that the term Los Chorros evokes the difficult vehicular traffic that thousands of Salvadorans go through daily. It is also synonymous with natural beauty and healthy fun just a few kilometers from the capital city. With his post, "the almost Salvadoran Russian" evoked nostalgia in some of his Salvadoran followers, while others confessed that they live in the country but have never been.¨
