

Diego's Big Adventure

Every single year, like clockwork, my family and I pack our bags and head down to sunny Florida. And you know what our favorite thing to do is? Hit the beach!

My all-time favorite sandy spot is none other than Clearwater Beach. It stretches out for miles, boasting the softest sand you've ever felt and tall, majestic palm trees swaying in the gentle breeze. It's seriously like stepping into a dream! I spend countless hours crafting elaborate sandcastles fit for kings and queens, all while keeping an eye out for those sleek sailboats cruising by.

And get this – sometimes we're lucky enough to catch a glimpse of dolphins and whales frolicking in the waves!

Every single morning, bright and early, we embark on our quest for shells buried in the sand. Last summer, I hit the jackpot and unearthed a whopping fifteen big, beautiful shells! I proudly displayed them in a special corner of my room, like treasure from a far-off land.

And guess what? This year, I've set my sights on conquering the waves and learning how to surf. I've heard it's a real challenge, but oh-so-fun! Thankfully, my sister is a seasoned surfer, and she's promised to be my guide through the wild waves. Here's hoping I can catch some gnarly waves and ride them like a true surfing superstar!
