

Listen to the song and put the lines in the correct order

Do you go to the country?

Your ears are full with their language

There's people there that'll hurt you

'Til the words start slurring

Because of who you are

And you can't find the door

It isn't very far

There's wisdom there, you're sure