Shopping in London

Hello! Thanks for reading my blog!
Have you (1) been shopping in London? There are over 40,000 shops and 26 major street markets! We've (2) spent a long weekend there – we came back last night. Read my blog entries below about each day.

OXFORD STREET posted Friday 2nd 2.30 pm

Oxford Street is one of the busiest shopping streets in Europe with one and a half miles of shops. Everything's so big – we've (3) been here for two hours, but we haven't (4) many things yet. We've just (5) to the department store Selfridges and now we're going to the clothes shops.

CAMDEN MARKET posted Saturday 3rd 10.00 am

Camden Market is a cool place to visit – there are over 1,000 shops, cafés and bars. We've (6) been here several times on previous trips to London. However, no two visits to Camden are the same, so we've (7) agreed this minute that we'll spend the whole day here.

COVENT GARDEN posted Sunday 4th 12.30 pm

This area has a really interesting mix of British hand-made craft stalls and high street and designer fashion. We're on the underground at the moment so we haven't actually got there (8) We expect it's going to be more expensive than the other two places, so we need to ask Mum and Dad for more cash!
