

Flatlife worksheet

Present your chosen character to your classmates. Your presentation should include the following elements (A+B+C)

A. Presentation of the character:

- Which furniture and other objects do you see in their flat?

---

- What does your character like doing?

---

- How is the relationship with his/her neighbors?

---

- Which problems does he/she encounter during the short film?

---

B. Similarities and differences with your life:

- In what kind of residence do you live? (flat, house, other...)

---

- What do you like doing when you're at home?

---

- How is your relationship with your neighbors?

---

C. Your opinion on a proverb "A good neighbor is better than a distant friend". Do you agree?

	Excellent	Good	Fair	Needs improvement
Did you do everything that was asked for in the instructions?	Yes, I answered all the different questions about the life of the character, the similarities/differences with my life and the one about the Dutch proverb.	I presented the character, the similarities/differences with my life and my meaning about the Dutch proverb, but I didn't answer all the separate questions.	I presented the key elements, but I missed some noteworthy things.	I didn't present the key elements.
Enthusiasm/Audience Awareness	I demonstrated a strong enthusiasm about the topic during the entire presentation	I showed some enthusiastic feelings about the topic	I showed little or mixed feelings about the topic	I showed no interest in topic presented
Language	I showed fluency in language use. I had a good pronunciation and very few grammar mistakes.	I made a limited number of mistakes in grammar and/or pronunciation, but overall, I did well.	I made a certain amount of mistakes in grammar and/or pronunciation. Overall, I did OK.	I made a lot of amount of mistakes in grammar and/or pronunciation and showed a lack of fluency.