Martha wrote a letter to Joe about his trip to Africa. Fill in the gaps using the corresponding comparative or superlative form of the adjectives in brackets.

Dear Joe,

How have you been? I want to share with you as _____ (wonderful) experiences and adventures I had in my trip to Africa last month.

I visited amazing places, explored as _____ (good) natural attractions ever, and tasted new food. The first days I went on a safari in Kenya and could see as _____ (fast) animals on Earth -the cheetahs, and I learned that hippos can be as _____ (aggressive) what people think.

I climbed hills, went through forests, and swam in lakes. I crossed the Nile, as _____ (long) river in the world, and I could see crocs as _____ (big) you or me. Did you know these crocs have as _____ (strong) bite in the animal kingdom?

Then, I visited Egypt and saw as _____ (old) pyramid in the world, which was built for King Djoser. However, as _____ (incredible) things took place in Cairo when I stepped into the famous Giza Pyramids Complex and had lunch in Oasis, a food court with space for as _____ (much) 4,000 people. I felt as _____ (happy) ever.

As you can imagine Africa is as _____ (hot) our hometown during daytime. However, the temperature can get as _____ (low) 2°C at night. Can you believe it?

I look forward to hearing about your own holiday adventures.

Warmest regards,

Martha
