

Chapter 9

Human Body

Our body is one of the most wonderful machine among the creatures. Scientist are still trying to explain why and how certain things hapens in our body. Still today more information is not available to us about the functions of human body.

Answer the following questions :

1. Which part of our body has the bone called ulna? _____
2. Name the strongest bone which connects the knee to the ankle. _____
3. What do bone marrow produce? _____
4. Where are the teeth located? _____
5. Which is the smallest of all bones? _____
6. What are bones made of? _____
7. Which is the human body's largest bone? _____
8. Where is the funny bone located? _____
9. Where is the stirrup located? _____
10. What holds the bones together? _____
11. Which is the only bone that can be moved in the skull? _____
12. Where is the femur located? _____
13. What are the bones surrounding the spinal column in the shape of knobs called? _____
14. What are bones filled with? _____

Help Card

Forearm, Vertebrae, Ligament, Ears, Lower jaw, Shin bone, Jaw bones, Femur, Blood cells, Stirrup, Thighs, Elbow, Calcium, Bone marrow

BOOST UP

- Our muscles derive energy from glucose to work.
- There are twenty-seven bones in our each hand.

LIVEWORKSHEETS