PANDILLA

62

A house-shaped grid for the number 62. The roof contains the number 62. The main body is a 10x2 grid of squares.

A circular diagram with the number 62 in the center. The number is enclosed in a circle. Radiating from this central circle are 14 lines, each connecting to an empty, rounded rectangular box. These boxes are arranged in a ring around the center, with one box at the top, one at the bottom, and two boxes on each of the four sides (left, right, top-left, and top-right).
