The illustration shows six children of different ages and ethnicities, each holding a colorful balloon. The balloons are arranged in two columns: one column on the left with three balloons (yellow, blue, orange) and one on the right with three balloons (green, red, pink). The children are positioned below their respective balloons. There are six empty yellow-outlined boxes for writing names, corresponding to the balloons. The first box is labeled "nombres largos" and the second is labeled "nombres cortos".
