Memory

It's quite common to hear someone complain that their memory is a _____ as it used to be, or that the more things they try to remember, b _____ quickly they seem to forget. However, memory is c _____ complicated than we usually think. For example, remembering facts is not at all d _____ remembering how to perform an action, and it seems that we don't 'forget' how to ride a bicycle or drive a car. For some people, it may be e _____ to remember what they have just read f _____ recall where they left their car keys. Of course, g _____ interesting a topic is, the more we remember about it, and we are almost certainly h _____ to recall something we have read or seen recently, because it remains active in our memory. Where studying is concerned, there are certainly ways of making the memory i _____. It's j _____ to remember disorganized information, so note-making and summarizing are important, and the learner, not the teacher, has to do this.

Regular reviewing of what has been learned is k _____ ways of strengthening memory. Some learners have l _____ visual than a verbal memory, and may remember more by associating ideas with visual images. There are plenty of books on the market which illustrate these techniques, always assuming that you can remember to buy one!
