3. Read the text and asnwer the questions.

My name's Niko and I'm a big fan of anime. Anime is the Japanese word for animation. In Japan, we use the word anime for all animation. In other countries, people use the word anime for Japanese animation.

You can draw anime by hand or use a computer. You can see anime in comic books, TV shows, video games and films.

People started making anime over one hundred years ago. Japanese filmmakers used it to tell lots of different stories. By the 1980s, anime was very popular in Japan. Then people translated the most popular stories into other languages, and they became well-known around the world.

In 1996, a Japanese game designer called Satoshi Tajiri created Pokémon as a video game. Soon, there were TV shows and films about these new anime characters. Other popular animes are the magical film Spirited Away and the beautiful fantasy My Neighbor Totoro.

Anime is my favourite kind of film. I love anime because the art is beautiful, the characters are interesting and the stories are exciting. My favourite anime film is Mirai. It's a magical fantasy about a little boy who learns lots of important lessons. What's your favourite anime film?
