When Jane left school at the age of sixteen, her aunt Flory gave her $500 for her birthday. Most of Jane's friends decided to go to college, but Jane used her aunt's money to start her own business. She bought fruits, sugar and some glass jars and began making her own jam. She sold the jam to her friends for $1 a jar and she soon doubled her aunt's $500.

At first, her parents didn't want Jane to spend her time making jam and they thought she should study instead. They hoped that one day she would be a teacher or a doctor, but Jane didn't listen to them. She just kept on making jam. After a few months, she started selling it to the local market. Then she started making orange juice. She sold this to a school where one of her friends worked.

After two years, her business was very large and her parents were very pleased with her. She made all kinds of food which she sold to shops and supermarkets. She was so busy that she had to employ some people to work for her.
