

Listen and fill in the blanks.

Once upon a time, in a small _____, there was a baker named Mr. Brown. Every morning, he woke up _____ to bake fresh bread for the villagers. His bakery was famous for its delicious _____. People from nearby towns would come just to taste his special _____. One day, Mr. Brown decided to create a new recipe using _____. The new bread was a huge success, and soon everyone was talking about it. Mr. Brown's bakery became even more popular, and he was very _____.

