73 Reported commands and requests

- We form reported commands and requests with verb + person + to-infinitive.
- We use ask to report requests: 'Can you help me, please?' → I asked him to help me.
- We use tell or order to report commands: 'Sit down.' → She told me to sit down. 'Open your suitcase!' → He ordered me to open my suitcase.
- For negative requests and commands, we use not before the to-infinitive: 'Please don't make a noise.' → He asked us not to make a noise. 'Don't touch the paintings!' → She ordered me not to touch the paintings.
- We don't use that to report a command or request: ~~He asked me that I tell him the time.~~
- We don't use say to report a command or request: ~~I said you to clean your shoes.~~
- Compare reported statements and commands: Ann told me that she was leaving. (reported statement)   Ann told me to leave. (reported command)
- Compare reported questions and requests: My boss asked me if I'd stay late. (reported question)   My boss asked me to stay late. (reported request)

6 'Are you OK?' the manager asked me.
After the fire, the manager told / asked me if / that I was OK.

74 I think that ... , Do you know if ... , I wonder why ...

- After verbs which express thoughts and feelings (e.g. believe, forget, hope, imagine, know, realise, remember, think, understand, wonder), we can use a that clause, a question word or if/whether.
- We can use that to introduce a statement: *I can't believe that David's thirty! We hope that you'll come.
- A question word introduces an indirect question: I wonder who that is.   Do you remember where he lives?   I can't imagine why he did it!
- If there is no question word, we use if/whether: Do you know if they've left?
- Other expressions we often use in indirect questions include: I'm not sure ... , I've no idea ... : I'm not sure when they're arriving.   I've no idea who that is.
- We often use indirect questions instead of direct questions to sound more polite, using expressions like can/could you tell me ... , do you know ... , have you any idea ... , etc.: Where's the ticket office? → Could you tell me where the ticket office is, please?   What time is it? → Do you know what time it is?   Where's Sophie? → Have you any idea where Sophie is?
- In indirect questions, the word order is the same as in statements: Where's the museum? → Could you tell me where the museum is, please?

⚠ - We only use a question mark if the first part of the sentence is a question. Compare: Do you know where he is?   I wonder where he is.*
- After a past tense verb, the next verb usually moves one tense back into the past: I couldn't believe (that) he was thirty!   I wondered who the man was.
