E Reading

YouNique
The only thing I love more than clothes is ... spending money on clothes! But I've been a bit disappointed with the choice available in my local shops. They're the same as the clothes in everyone else's local shops. But I don't want to look like everyone else, so I buy things off the internet. There are plenty of online stores to browse. I try stuff on at home and return anything I don't like for a refund.

XBoxBoy
Why spend your money on clothes? I'm into gaming and bought an Xbox Series X last year. I knew it was the best games console to get because I'd seen the adverts about it on TV. I'd saved up for ages and finally had enough money to buy it. They weren't exaggerating – it's amazing! Now I buy lots of video games. My mum and dad say I spend too much money on them, but I don't agree.

Pete01
You shouldn't believe what the advertisers say! Of course they say their product is the best ... they want you to buy it! I always read consumer reviews. Last month, I bought a tablet. I'd read hundreds of reviews before I finally decided to spend my money on a Lenovo Smart TAB P10. It's a great product; the battery lasts for ages and I can do all kinds of things on it: listen to music, watch films, go online, anything really. It's a bit slow when you have lots of tabs open, unfortunately. But all in all, it's great value, and, because I'm still at college, I got a discount!

Out&About
My parents taught me that it's experiences that bring you lasting happiness and that's what I like to spend my money on. Last month we tried an escape room. I'd read about it in a magazine and found out that there was one not far away. I don't want to give you all the details, but basically players are locked in a room and have to solve lots of puzzles to escape ... and you only have an hour. We managed it, but only just. I've never been so excited!

Read the text. How is Out&About different from the other consumers?
