

Top Summer Jobs for Teens

Let's face it -- between school, home, friends, and extracurricular activities, life as a teenager can be chaotic. Many teens view summer as a time for relaxation and vacation, but for some, it's all about the money. Summer jobs for teens should be fun, social, and flexible. Here are some popular part-time jobs that let teens earn extra cash while gaining valuable experience for the future.

1 Landscaping and Lawn Care -

Landscaping and lawn care are booming businesses during the summer months. Many people don't have the time or aren't physically capable of caring for their lawn and garden.

Landscaping is a challenging job that entails manual labor and long hours. If you don't mind getting dirty and love the outdoors, nature, and designing, this job is right for you. You'll hone your creativity and benefit from the physical activity, while learning about responsibility, hard work, and time-management.

Life Guard - If you are at least 15 years old and a proficient swimmer, you might consider training to be a certified lifeguard.

Besides spending your working hours in the sun soaking in the rays, you'll learn valuable lessons in responsibility and safety. To become a certified lifeguard, a 37-hour course is required, which includes training in CPR, AED, first aid, surveillance techniques, proper use of rescue equipment, and managing spinal injury victims. You'll also have to pass a written test and a swimming test. Life guarding is a rewarding job that develops confidence, decision-making skills, conflict resolution, and professionalism.

3 Dog-Walking/Pet-Grooming -

Many elderly neighbors, friends on vacation, and people who work long hours need help washing and walking their pets.

If you enjoy working with animals and have a responsible work ethic, then this is the job for you. Your part-time business will begin to pick up once you set your reputation as a reliable and available animal lover.

4

Food Services - If you are a social butterfly and love interacting with people, restaurant employment might be right for you. You can choose from such positions as cashier, host/hostess, server, bus girl/boy, food runner, dish washer, and prep cook. Many towns have popular and unique diners and drive-ins, which make for a fun and social working environment.

Food industry positions can help you develop people skills, self-esteem, and responsibility, while enjoying a bit of socializing.

5

Movie Theater - Free movies, free popcorn, and socializing are just a few of the benefits you get when working at a movie theater. If you are a movie buff, this is the perfect environment for you to spend some working hours. Concessions, tickets sales, ticket stubs, and usher are a few of the positions you can choose from.

You can choose to beat the heat during hot summer days, and maybe catch a free flick at night.

Babysitting - Babysitting is a tried and true way for any teenager who enjoys kids to make money.

Neighbours, family friends, and relatives with small children often need help and want someone they know and trust. In order to offer more valuable services, teens can take classes on handling emergency situations and become certified in CPR and first aid. When a teenager proves her responsibility, reliability, and availability on a regular basis, her part-time business will be booming.
