

WOMAN: So, I understand you're interested in restaurant work?

MAN: Yes. I've got a bit of experience and I can provide _____.

WOMAN: That's good. I can check all that later. Now, Milo's Restaurants have some _____ at the moment. They're a really good company to work for. Lots of _____.

MAN: Oh right.

WOMAN: Yes. They've got a very good reputation for looking after staff. For example, all _____ get training – even temporary staff. Q1

MAN: Oh really? That's quite _____, isn't it?

WOMAN: Certainly is.

MAN: And do staff get free _____ too?

WOMAN: Um ... you just need to wear a white T-shirt and black _____, it says here. So I guess not ... But another benefit of working for a big company like this is that you can get a _____ at any of their restaurants. Q2

MAN: Even at _____?

WOMAN: No, but you'll be working then anyway.

MAN: Oh yes. I suppose so. Most of their restaurants are in the city _____, aren't they? So, easy to get to by bus?

WOMAN: Yes. That's right. But if you have to do a late _____ and finish work after midnight, the company will pay for you to get a _____ home. Q3

MAN: I probably won't need one. I think I'd use my bike.

WOMAN: OK. Now, they do have some quite specific _____ for the kind of person they're looking for. Milo's is a young, _____ company and they're really keen on creating a strong team. It's really important that you can fit in and get on well with _____.

MAN: Yeah. I've got no _____ with that. It sounds good, actually. The last place I worked for was quite demanding too. We had to make sure we gave a really high level of _____. Q4

WOMAN: That's good to hear because that will be equally _____ at Milo's. I know they want people who have an eye for detail.

MAN: That's fine. I'm very used to working in that kind of _____.

WOMAN: Perfect. So the only other thing that's required is good communication skills, so you'll need to have a _____ in English. Q5

MAN: Sure.
