

CANTUÑA AND HIS PACT WITH THE DEVIL

- Carefully read the following passage about Cantuña and the construction of the Church of San Francisco atrium in Quito.

Cantuña was a respected indigenous in colonial times and he was entrusted with the construction of the atrium of the Church of San Francisco in Quito.

The pay for this work was excellent, but the condition was that it had to be done in the shortest possible time. Cantuña then decided to sell his soul to the devil with the condition that all the stones of the atrium were placed there before the first rays of the sun came out.

He recorded on a stone that anyone who touched it would recognize God alone. Three little demons who worked that night could not touch the stone and left the construction incomplete.

When the devil came to take the soul of Cantuña, he claimed that the work had not been completed and that therefore, he could not meet the deal, winning his soul back.
