

Example 1: The line graph below shows the percentage of tourists to Scotland who visited four different attractions from 1980 to 2010.

➤ Introduction

The line graph _____ the proportion of _____ to four _____ in Scotland, including Aquarium, Castle, Zoo and Festival over the _____ of 30 years.

visitors    illustrates    period    places

➤ Overview

It is _____ that while the _____ of tourists visiting Castle and _____ increased, the opposite was true for _____ and Festival over the given period. It is also notable that _____ was the most _____ tourist attraction in Scotland for most of the period.

Aquarium    percentage    Castle    popular    Zoo    clear

➤ Detail 1: Castle and Zoo

In 1980, the percentage of tourists who chose to visit Castle was nearly _____ % which was significantly _____ than the figure for Zoo, at only _____ %. Over the following 20 years, the percentage of Castle visitors _____ dramatically to reach a peak _____ about 45% in 1995, followed by a considerable _____ to just over 30% in 2010. By contrast, despite some slight _____ between 10% and 15% during the first 20 years, the figure for Zoo then significantly increased to 20% in the _____.

higher    increased    25    10    of    drop    fluctuations    last year

➤ Detail 2: Aquarium and Festival

Looking at the other attractions, _____ was the most attractive place in Scotland in 1980 with 30% of Scotland tourists choosing this, _____ 20% for Aquarium. Over the next 5 years, the percentage of travellers paying a visit to Aquarium reached a peak of nearly _____ % in 1985 before _____ back to 20% five years later. Since then, this figure continued to fall _____ to just under 10% in 2010. _____, the percentage of Festival visitors _____ a gradual decrease throughout the period, ending at roughly 18% at the end of the period.

significantly    compared with    35    Meanwhile    Festival    witnessed    decreasing