

Defining Relative Clauses

Use: give us information about the person or thing mentioned.
people	objects/animals	possession
who/that	which/that	whose
- Can be omitted when they are the objective of the relative clauses - Cannot be omitted when they are the subject of the relative clause

Fill in the blank, using correct relative pronouns (who/which/whose)

1. The movie is about a boy _____ lost his parents in a car accident.
2. I have a friend _____ speaks four languages.
3. We should only buy products _____ can be recycled.
4. That's the woman _____ 5-year-old son suddenly disappears.
5. That's the shop _____ I bought those shoes
6. There were three people at the party _____ knew me.
7. I want to see the film _____ everybody's talking about.
8. That's the man _____ daughter is a professional footballer.
9. Where's the book _____ Paul lent you?
10. The doctor _____ I usually see doesn't work there any more.
11. That's the woman _____ bought my old car.
12. They ate at a restaurant _____ serves only vegan dishes.
13. The passengers _____ flights were cancelled got a refund.

Rewrite the sentences using past simple passive.

1. That woman works in a bank. She lives next to my house.

→ _____

2. I read the book. The book was written by J. K. Rowling.

→ _____

3. That is my friend. His guitar is red.

→ _____

4. That woman lives in that house. What's the name of the woman?

→ _____

5. That's the woman. Her father is Vietnamese.

→ _____

6. That's the girl. I spoke to her yesterday.

→ _____

7. That was the CD. It was on sale yesterday.

→ _____