WRITING: KNOWING ABOUT EVALUATION

In exams it is important to know how many marks there are for different sections and to know what the examiners want. Usually examiners want to see if you:

- answer the question and include the information they ask for
- write clearly
- organise your ideas logically
- use accurate and varied grammar
- use accurate and varied vocabulary
- use punctuation and capital letters correctly

5 Write an email to a friend. You went on holiday and met an interesting person. Tell your friend about this person. In your email you should:

- say where and when you met this person
- give some basic personal information about them and their family
- give information about their main hobby
- say why this person is interesting
