

Choose the most appropriate verb. There are some situations where both verbs are possible.

1. If you are invited to a Brazilian house for dinner, you _____ arrive at least 30 minutes after the time mentioned.
2. You _____ give purple flowers as a gift in many countries.
3. All personnel _____ read the health and safety notices in the building.
4. Staff _____ disclose information on the project unless authorised.
5. I think you _____ encourage the team to develop interpersonal skills.
6. Simone _____ work so hard – she is looking very tired.
7. When going to a new country to do business, you do some research into their culture.
8. You _____ pay immediately. We can offer you credit.

Match these sentence halves. Then, answer the questions.

1. All foreign nationals must
2. Although it is quite a liberal country,
3. In their meetings, junior staff have to
4. They have 'casual Fridays', which means
5. You mustn't take more than
6. You shouldn't buy a very expensive gift,

-
- a. Which two sentences express advice?
  - b. Which sentence expresses the idea that it is not necessary to do something?
  - c. Which sentence expresses the idea that something is against the law?
  - d. Which sentence expresses the idea that something is required by law?
  - e. Which sentence expresses the idea that something is required by social 'rules'?

FINE & FLOW

www.fineandflow.com

 LIVEWORKSHEETS