

MUST or HAVE TO?

| MUST | HAVE TO |
|---|---|
| Is personal. We use it to express personal feelings. It's used for present and future, not for past. "I must go home now" (I say it's necessary) | Is impersonal. We don't use it for feelings, but for facts. It's used in all forms. "I have to tidy my bedroom. My mum wants me to." (Mum says it's necessary) |

| MUSTN'T | DON'T HAVE TO |
|---|---|
| It's a prohibition. It's necessary that you do NOT do something. "You mustn't smoke in a hospital" | It expresses lack of necessity. It's not necessary for you to do something. "You don't have to wear a uniform in this school." |

Complete with MUST or HAVE TO in the correct tense (sometimes both are possible):

- Oh! It's getting late. I _____ go home now.
- My mum is always telling me that I _____ study more!
- Jane is great. You _____ meet her!
- Alex _____ leave the party early yesterday. His parents didn't let him stay until late.
- John _____ repeat the exam tomorrow. The teacher thinks he cheated.
- I _____ get up early tomorrow or I won't have time to do all the things I want to do!
- Children _____ wear a uniform in many schools.
- Anne can't come to the park with us. She _____ help her mum with the housework.
- Albert might _____ move to Bristol next year. He's found a job there.
- Next time you come to Manchester, you _____ come and visit us again.

Underline the correct option:

- You mustn't/don't have to speed.
- You mustn't/have to wear your seatbelt fastened when you drive.
- You mustn't/don't have to use your mobile phone while driving.
- You mustn't/don't have to wash your car every day before going to work, but you must/have to keep it clean!
- If you are fined, you don't have to/must pay the fine immediately. You have a few weeks time.
- You must/have to stop when the traffic lights are red!
- What _____ (I) do to get an English driving licence?

Complete with MUST or HAVE TO in the correct tense

- I'm not working next week, so I _____ get up early.
- _____ (you) get an insurance for your new house when you bought it?
- I _____ clean the house first thing tomorrow morning. It's filthy!
- You _____ make any noise before nine in the morning or grandma will get really angry! She hates being woken up. So, you _____ use the vacuum cleaner!
- Jane _____ make any efforts. She's just gone through an operation. You _____ help her with the housework!
- You _____ wear gloves to clean the bathroom, but it's advisable.

