Playing Footbag for Fun

I live in Colombia, in a small town near Medellín. My town is in the Andes Mountains, about 1,500 meters above sea level. Around my town, there are large plains, deep canyons, and wide valleys.

What do I do for fun? I play footbag. A footbag is a soft bag filled with plastic beads. Today, I'm playing footbag with my friends in the park. We're playing next to a lake.

Here's how you play. Today, it's my turn to start. I kick the bag in the air and pass it to Manuel. We all take turns kicking the bag. We're careful not to drop it. Footbags aren't like balls. When they fall, they don't bounce.

Think
Main Idea: I play footbag for fun.

There are different ways to play footbag. The most popular is called "circle kicking." That's what my friends and I play. We stand in a circle and take turns kicking the footbag. It isn't easy, because the footbag can only touch your body below the knee. You have to pass the footbag to the next person in the circle, but it can't touch the ground.

Some of the older kids play "freestyle footbag." That's really hard, and you have to learn to do tricks.

For now, I enjoy playing footbag with my friends. But one day, I want to learn to do tricks.

Fun Here, Fun There!

Characters: Sami Carol Clara Tony

[The four characters are sitting together in the center of the stage.]

- Clara: Hey, everyone. Tell me about a fun place you visited.
- Sami: I went to a festival. There were lots of lights and a lot of good food. People wore colorful costumes.
- Tony: My family and I went hiking in the canyon. It was beautiful. We had a picnic lunch. Then we went swimming in the lake.
- Sami: What about you, Carol?
- Carol: The best place is here! It's fun because I'm with my best friends!
- [Carol reaches out her arms toward all her friends. All laugh.]*

- B Prepare to write a play about fun places you and your friends visit.

Organize your ideas. Write them in the character maps.
