

You know it still hurts a little bit but not much

'Cause if you want somebody who am I to judge

I've been thinking 'bout you all the time but that's alright

I'm starting to.....used to it, think I'll survive

I met you in the summer

When you it was cold

Said we lovedanother

Guess that we were wrong

Our love was out of

I've been going without you

I'm so

It's kinda..... in my room right now, without you

And I couldn't really make you, so what to do

I'm just staring at my walls and talking to

Now and then I try to laugh but I'll a bit as well

I was never good at being away from you
