VOCABULARY PRACTICE

Let's listen to the recording again and fill in blanks below

Good morning. Welcome to the Science Museum. There's so much to do here, you could 1 all day going from one 2 to another. But if your time is 3 , I'd suggest choosing maybe just one main exhibition. At the moment, I'd 4 our new exhibition of everyday 5 . It's amazing to see how objects we use in our daily lives, like paper 6 , tea bags and light 7 were invented in the first place and how they've 8 over the years into such an 9 part of our lives that we hardly ever notice them. You shouldn't miss it ... The other thing I'd 10 if you don't have much time, is a 11 tour of the free exhibitions. These tours usually start on the hour, um m ... at one o 'clock, two o'clock and so on. They're quite short, only half an hour, so you could do a couple of tours in an 12 , if you wanted to. If you'd like to go on a tour, you should go to the entrance of the exhibition on the 13 floor and 14 for the 15 there.
