

Elements of Art in Drawing (Lines and Shapes, Harmony of Colors, Balance)

Write the best answer for each question and write your answer before each number.

1. What do you usually see in the foreground of a picture?
2. Which part of a picture is in the middle ground?
3. This is like the backstage of your drawing. It's where things are far away.
4. When an artist wants to create the illusion that an object is near, they typically draw it:
5. In a landscape drawing, the area where objects are closer to the viewer is called the:

True or False. Write TRUE if the statement is true, and FALSE if not.

6. Using only one size for everything in a drawing helps art look more real.
7. Exploring different cultural communities through art helps us understand their traditions and history.
8. Visual textures in art are created by using only one color and line.
9. Learning about people from different cultures can help us understand and like how everyone is unique and sees the world in their own special way.
10. Contrasting geometric designs involves putting two similar shapes next to each other to create interest.
11. Objects drawn bigger in a picture appear closer to the viewer, while smaller objects appear farther away.

Application of Knowledge. Label the picture: background, middleground, or foreground, and answer the following questions below.

12.

13.

14.

